Thanks Annie.

All is well here (at the Plant at least).

Most of us live some distance from Highland Park and none were in town for the parade so our trauma level is pretty much the same as everyone else who experienced this through the media.

It I impossible to imagine what the families present with children, either at their side or in the parade, experienced.

All City staff are well. Of course all are saddened and in a state of shock and disbelief.

We've learned that even our quiet, peaceful well-policed community can experience what inner city residents face daily.

Governor Pritzker Hails Tremendous Fiscal Progress as Illinois Enters
FY23 – Southland Journal

“A significant surplus and a zero-day payment cycle mean that our schools are funded, our roads are being rebuilt, and our healthcare providers are paid on time – and Illinois taxpayers are no longer dealing with hundreds of millions of dollars in interest payments because government didn’t do its job,” said Governor JB Pritzker.

Chicago Alderwoman waits 29 years for housing assistance, takes legislative action for change – ABC News

Ald. Jeanette Taylor's proposed Accountable Housing and Transparency ordinance aims to centralize efforts in housing the homeless and those in need. Other key features of the ordinance include prioritizing the displaced and disabled, centralizing leasing, a single waitlist, "interagency coordination" among all Chicago-based public health and housing institutions, and a requirement for each affordable housing unit to "achieve and maintain 97% occupancy rate."

Elected officials react to Highland Park mass shooting – CBS2 (Chicago)

President Joe Biden said in a statement he and his wife Jill "are shocked by the senseless gun violence that has yet again brought grief to an American community on this Independence Day." Biden said he spoke to Gov. JB Pritzker and Highland Park Mayor Nancy Rotering on Monday and "offered the full support of the Federal government to their communities." Editorial: People still want to invest in the elegance of downtown Chicago. Government has to help them. – Chicago Tribune*

"Chicago is in no position to change the circumstances of corporate America, and PR campaigns promoting the city as a destination for tourists and conventioners can only go so far in altering perceptions...But there is no doubt that Gov. J.B. Pritzker needs to make Chicago's crime wave a much bigger personal priority than he has, instead of leaving Mayor Lori Lightfoot to shoulder the blame for their collective ineffectiveness."

Illinois Governor JB Pritzker is touted as possible rival after declaring move 'certainly possible' – Daily Mail

"In other words, this is a dynamite just waiting to explode. Maybe it will never go off as state officials continue to muddle along. But when and if it does, disaster will ensue for members of the funds for teachers, judges, state employees, state university employees and judges. For the time being, the legislators' pension system is in the most trouble. It's just 19 percent funded."

Hello fellow colleagues,
Due to the recent parade shooting and subsequent cancellations of other parades, ATC has 1000 sapling trees that were to be distributed to residents during the parades. If your township or park districts would like to receive any of these trees for planting please contact me asap. These trees will be viable for about another week. I would hate to have to throw them out.

Ghida,

We were less than two blocks, with our LWV car, from the shooting. I'm numb, we all are.

This morning I received an unsolicited email from a gun site. Here is a snap from the mailing, which I unsuccessfully tried to unsubscribe to. I hope this was random and not designed for our community to add to our tragedy.

Sorry to bother you with this - but in case our community has somehow been targeted with potential harassment to that adds to the pain.

Subject: Employee Counseling Service Available Tuesday, July 5th

Good evening colleagues,

Today has been an incredibly tragic day in our community. Whether you were on site or watching the news unfold at home, we understand how traumatic the events of today have been on our City of Highland Park family. I am in awe and incredibly appreciative of the swift work that our emergency responders undertook when shots were fired in the business district. Police, Fire, Public Works, Admin and other employees as well as the community quickly worked to provide aide to individuals on the scene and police personnel immediately began the investigation which has now led the person of interest in custody. We are grateful to the immediate and on-going support from the FBI, Lake County Major Crimes Task Force, State, area law enforcement agencies and numerous other agencies and organizations.

First Responders Wellness Center will be on site at West Ridge Center, 636 Ridge Road at 10 AM, July 5 to provide trauma support and counseling to City Staff and the City Council as well as for our Government Partners. All team members are welcome and encouraged to attend if comfortable. Please note that the opening session at 10 AM is designed specifically for those that were on the scene today. Attached are three handouts for reference and below is the schedule for services.

- 10am, West Ridge Center – All team member who were at the Parade
- 11:30am, West Ridge Center - All team members who were in Highland Park today
- 12:30pm, West Ridge Center – All team members who would like additional support are encouraged to meet individually with a counselor from First Responders Wellness Center

Additionally, communitywide counseling services will be taking place at the High School in a joint effort by the City, Park District, and School District 112 and 113 from 9:00 to 2:00. No appointment is necessary, but only the Vine Street entrance will be open. Anyone who is not a current District 113 student or staff member who wishes to take advantage of counseling services will need to have valid State identification to be cleared to enter the school, which is the school's standard procedure for visitors.

Human Resources will be sending out information on additional support options in the coming days.

COPING AFTER A CRITICAL INCIDENT:

- Try to slowly get back into your normal routine
- Do healthy things for your body (eat fruits, vegetables, whole grain, beans), exercise (30 min. a day), & sleep (8 hours)
- Grounding, practicing being present in the here and now (Use all 5 senses)
- Avoid excesses such as food, alcohol, shopping, gambling, exercise, etc.
- Socialize with others & Talk about your feelings with others you trust
- Try therapy and/or spiritual counselors
- Have fun, read, play, and stay involved in your hobbies
- Volunteer or participate in other community activities to reduce isolation
- Watch comedies or look at www.sunnyskyz.com, a positive upbeat online news media
- Look at www.common sense media.org for guidance on what movies, TV shows, cartoons, that could be triggering for your situation. Common sense media reports on positive message, positive role models, violence, sex, language, drinking, drugs, and smoking, and consumerism.
- Turn Media off & Take a Break: You may want to know what is happening with your critical incident, but the updates can also add distress. Consider if you truly want to know or not, if so, then give yourself time limits.

SIGNS YOU MAY NEED MORE HELP:

- Having symptoms that are getting worse or staying exactly the same since the incident.
- Difficulties with not thinking about the event and all the “what if’s...”
- Depressive symptoms such as sadness, worthlessness, lack of energy, social withdrawal, low self-esteem, increase/decrease of sleep or appetite, indecisiveness, unresolved grief, and/or poor concentration
- Anxiety Symptoms such as excessive or unrealistic worry, difficulties controlling worry; physical tension (i.e. muscle tension, restlessness, shakiness); autonomic hyperactivity (i.e. heart palpitations, shortness of breath, dry mouth, nausea); hypervigilance (i.e. feeling on edge, difficulties concentrating, trouble falling or staying asleep, irritability), sadness, intrusive memories, poor sleep, anxiety, guilt, etc.
- Trauma Symptoms such as intrusive, distressing thoughts related to the traumatic incident, avoidance of reminders of the incident, detachment, hypervigilance, and arousal and distress when reminded of the incident.

- Symptoms that are negatively impacting your mood, thoughts, or daily functioning
- Having thoughts of death, suicide, or hurting oneself
- Not being able to do your job/school or take care of oneself or significant others
- Substantial decrease or increase of sleep, food, and/or alcohol or other substances

COPING STRATEGIES:

- Tactical breathing: inhale for 3 counts, hold for 3, exhale for 3 counts to reduce stress.
- Use Calm, Headspace, or another phone app to practice guided imagery & meditation.
- Increase and use your support system. You are not alone, everyone suffers.
- Wallpaper: Put happy pictures on your phone of family or vacations for reminders of happy times
- Exercise Regularly: Gym, walk, play with kids, sports, etc.
- Move: Get out of your couch, draw, listen to music, walk around the block, visit a park or a nice view.
- Use scented candles, oils, or other fragrances that are calming at home. Consider a nice smelling air freshener in your office.
- Go to therapy and talk with a trauma counselor.
- Concentrate on what you have & appreciate it.
- Do something nice for someone else: Anything from opening a door to a smile.

SLEEP TECHNIQUES:

- Lie down to sleep only when sleepy.
- Do not use bed for any other activities like TV, reading, listening to music, etc. only for sleeping.
- Get out of bed if sleep doesn't arrive soon after retiring (approx. 30-40 min)
- Try to set a consistent sleep-wake cycle. No napping, when possible.
- Restrict excessive liquid intake prior to bed & Avoid spicy late-night snacks or any late-night eating.
- Exercise daily but not 3-4 hours before bedtime.
- Minimize or avoid caffeine, alcohol, tobacco, and any stimulants.
- Do not use caffeine or any stimulants a minimum of 4-6 hours before going to bed.
- Try to avoid TV 1-2 hours before going to bed and avoid news or other intense material prior to going to bed.
- Make the bedroom colder, use brand new sheets, and darken your room.
- Try Chamomile, Valerian Root, Lavender, or Lemon Balm Teas.
- Eat Melatonin rich foods such as pistachios, tomatoes, tart cherries, walnuts, almonds, spinach, and bananas.

WHAT IS TRAUMA?

A traumatic incident is when a person is exposed to an actual or threatened death, serious injury, or sexual violence in one of more of the following ways: 1) directly experience, 2) witness it, 3) learn about it occurring to a close family/friend/co-worker, 4) experienced repeated or extreme exposure to aversive details.

EVENT RISK FACTORS that increase difficulties in handling the trauma:

- 12) Atrocity, brutal, or shocking

What you can do:

- 1) Understand common trauma reactions & that there is not something wrong with you
- 2) Talk with others who are safe/Increase your social support/Be with others
- 3) Name your emotions & acknowledge them
- 4) Expect unwanted emotions (i.e., crying spells, anxiety in crowds)
- 5) Grief can take a long time; give yourself time to recover.
- 6) Do not judge yourself negatively, you survived! Accept that you have feelings—feelings are not wrong, only what you do with your feelings can be wrong. You have a right to feel both negative and positive emotions.

Team,

As I reflect upon the past 24 hour period, I recognize that we went from a gathering that was full of joy abruptly being derailed by a tragic event. I was seeing the number of families that had gathered for the parade, enjoying how we all came together. My next visions were filled with tragedy and heroism. To say that I am proud of our team is a gross understatement. Our members involved "risked a lot to save a lot." You stepped out into the scene to render care in the face of danger. Whether off duty or on duty, many of you gave up your holiday to respond. On behalf of the entire command staff, THANK YOU.

I want you to know that your command staff is here for you! We want to make sure that you and your families are cared for. If you need anything, please do not hesitate to reach out to me or any of our command staff. We are one family that will get through this tragedy together. You are my heroes!

Thank you.

Good morning, Ghida,

I wish I was writing you for better circumstances, but here we are. My heart is with you all. My fear and trauma from my own mass school shooting in Winnetka ('88) returns every time I hear about mass shootings. It's a fear I hoped wouldn't hit so close to home again. Please pass along my prayers and praises to all the HP and extended first responders, and all the other support agencies, for their quick and calm responses yesterday. Stay strong.

Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help (help collect chairs, etc.). We cannot let fear win.

Can you confirm the below media report, attributed to the mayor?

UPDATE: Highland Park mayor says gun used in the parade shooting Monday was legally purchased. It's been described as a high-powered rifle but not specifically identified. A report says ATF used DNA from the rifle left at scene to quickly identify the person of interest.

Governor Pritzker's Statement on Shooting in Highland Park

Today, I ask all Illinoisans to pray for the families who have been devastated by the evil unleashed this morning in Highland Park, for those who have lost loved ones and for those who have been injured. I also ask that we all pray for our first responders at all levels of government who are actively working to bring the suspect into custody, and whose bravery undoubtedly saved innocent lives on the scene.

There are no words for the kind of monster who lies in wait and fires into a crowd of families with children celebrating a holiday with their community. There are no words for the kind of evil that robs our neighbors of their hopes, their dreams, their futures. There are no words I can offer to lift the pain of those they leave behind. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I grieve with you.

But grief will not bring the victims back, and prayers alone will not put a stop to the terror of rampant gun violence in our country.

I will stand firm with Illinoisans and Americans: we must - and we will - end this plague of gun violence

Good evening colleagues,

Today has been an incredibly tragic day in our community. Whether you were on site or watching the news unfold at home, we understand how traumatic the events of today have been on our City of Highland Park family. I am in awe and incredibly appreciative of the swift work that our emergency responders undertook when shots were fired in the business district. Police, Fire, Public Works, Admin and other employees as well as the community quickly worked to provide aide to individuals on the scene and police personnel immediately began the investigation which has now led the person of interest in custody. We are grateful to the immediate and on-going support from the FBI, Lake County Major Crimes Task Force, State, area law enforcement agencies and numerous other agencies and organizations.

First Responders Wellness Center will be on site at West Ridge Center, 636 Ridge Road at 10 AM, July 5 to provide trauma support and counseling to City Staff and the City Council as well as for our Government Partners. All team members are welcome and encouraged to attend if comfortable. Please note that the opening session at 10 AM is designed specifically for those that were on the scene today. Attached are three handouts for reference and below is the schedule for services.

- 10am, West Ridge Center – All team member who were at the Parade
- 11:30am, West Ridge Center - All team members who were in Highland Park today
- 12:30pm, West Ridge Center – All team members who would like additional support are encouraged to meet individually with a counselor from First Responders Wellness Center

Additionally, communitywide counseling services will be taking place at the High School in a joint effort by the City, Park District, and School District 112 and 113 from 9:00 to 2:00. No appointment is necessary, but only the Vine Street entrance will be open. Anyone who is not a current District 113 student or staff member who wishes to take advantage of counseling services will need to have valid State identification to be cleared to enter the school, which is the school's standard procedure for visitors.

Human Resources will be sending out information on additional support options in the coming days.

Lt. Governor Stratton's Statement on the Shooting in Highland Park

Chicago—The pain that we are feeling today is not normal and never should be. My family and I are praying for the Highland Park community and all who attended the 4th of July parade today to celebrate our country only to have that celebration turned into tragedy. Our state is saddened and stunned by this horrific act of gun violence. We must lean on each other for comfort, and pray for the lives lost, those injured, their family and friends, as well as the brave first responders from every government agency working this mass shooting. As we struggle to process all that is happening today, we must again say ENOUGH. There are too many guns on our streets and we must enact common sense gun laws, stricter policies, and put resources in place to build the safe, healthy communities everyone deserves. Today we mourn with the people of Highland Park, and we make it clear that we see them and all who are impacted by gun violence in our state by remaining committed to healing from such immense pain.

Governor Pritzker's Statement on Shooting in Highland Park

Today, I ask all Illinoisans to pray for the families who have been devastated by the evil unleashed this morning in Highland Park, for those who have lost loved ones and for those who have been injured. I also ask that we all pray for our first responders at all levels of government who are actively working to bring the suspect into custody, and whose bravery undoubtedly saved innocent lives on the scene.

There are no words for the kind of monster who lies in wait and fires into a crowd of families with children celebrating a holiday with their community. There are no words for the kind of evil that robs our neighbors of their hopes, their dreams, their futures. There are no words I can offer to lift the pain of those they leave behind. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I grieve with you.

But grief will not bring the victims back, and prayers alone will not put a stop to the terror of rampant gun violence in our country.

I will stand firm with Illinoisans and Americans: we must - and we will - end this plague of gun violence

Governor Pritzker's Statement on Shooting in Highland Park

Today, I ask all Illinoisans to pray for the families who have been devastated by the evil unleashed this morning in Highland Park, for those who have lost loved ones and for those who have been injured. I also ask that we all pray for our first responders at all levels of government who are actively working to bring the suspect into custody, and whose bravery undoubtedly saved innocent lives on the scene.

There are no words for the kind of monster who lies in wait and fires into a crowd of families with children celebrating a holiday with their community. There are no words for the kind of evil that robs our neighbors of their hopes, their dreams, their futures. There are no words I can offer to lift the pain of those they leave behind. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I grieve with you.

But grief will not bring the victims back, and prayers alone will not put a stop to the terror of rampant gun violence in our country.

I will stand firm with Illinoisans and Americans: we must - and we will - end this plague of gun violence

Gov. Pritzker Addresses This Morning's Mass Shooting in Highland Park

Monday, July 4th, 2022

Remarks As Prepared For Delivery

Video of the Governor's remarks will be available for download here.

Good afternoon. I want to begin by honoring the heroic actions of law enforcement who ran toward the gunshots they heard today. In particular, lives were saved because the Highland Park Police courageously protected and served their community.

I also want to thank our Illinois State Police who have been coordinating on the ground since this morning with Highland Park PD, neighboring police forces, the County Task force, FBI and ATF. Our troopers will continue the investigation and search until the job is done.

To the residents of Highland Park and surrounding communities: This murderer will be brought to justice. But until that happens, please follow instructions from local authorities on how best to keep you and your family safe. And please know that every resource at the state's disposal will be available to you in the days and weeks ahead as you recover from this horrific tragedy.

A little while ago, I spoke with President Biden who pledged all support the White House can provide. The President agrees with me: This madness must stop.

This morning a gunman opened fire on a July Fourth parade in Highland Park, taking 6 innocent lives, leaving 24 people in the hospital, traumatizing countless children and families, and shattering the peace of this community.

The families of 6 individuals woke up today to join a community celebration of our nation's independence. They will go to bed tonight less than whole.

There are no words for the kind of evil that shows up at a public celebration of freedom, hides on a roof and shoots innocent people with an assault rifle. There are no words I can offer to lessen the pain of those families who will no longer associate the 4th of July with celebration, but instead with grief. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I and our family grieve with you.

It is devastating that a celebration of America was ripped apart by our uniquely American plague. A day dedicated to freedom has put into stark relief the one freedom we as a nation refuse to uphold – the freedom of our fellow citizens to live without the daily fear of gun violence.

You know what I love about the 4th of July? We celebrate the founding of this wonderful nation by gathering with family and friends, and enjoying parades and fireworks. Our cameras on days like this are filled with messy faces and reckless smiles and pretty sunsets – an effort to bottle up that unique feeling of sun-filled joy.

That's what evil took from us today. That's what gun violence robs us of — no matter the neighborhood or city it erupts in.

If you are angry today, I'm here to tell you to be angry. I'm furious. I'm furious that yet more innocent lives were taken by gun violence. I'm furious that their loved ones are forever broken by what took place today. I'm furious that children and their families have been traumatized. I'm furious that this is happening in communities all across Illinois and America. I'm furious because it does not have to be this way and yet we as a nation, well, we continue to allow this to happen. While we celebrate the 4th of July just once a year, mass shootings have become our weekly – yes, weekly – American tradition.

There are going to be people who say that today is not the day, that now is not the time, to talk about guns. I'm telling you there is no better day and no better time than right here and right now.

It's the 4th of July - a day for reflection on our freedoms. Our founders carried muskets, not assault weapons. And I don't think a single one of them would have said you have a constitutional right to an assault weapon with a high capacity magazine — or that that is more important than the right of the people who attended this parade today to live.

So yes, I'm angry. We as a nation deserve better.

May the memory of those we lost today be a blessing – and a call to action.

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Good morning,

My name is Maria Cramer and I'm a reporter at the New York Times.

I was reaching out in the hopes that I might be able to speak with Mayor Roterling this morning for a few minutes.

I'm also trying to confirm that the father of the suspect, Robert Crimo III, ran unsuccessfully against Mayor Roterling in 2019. I've seen various reports of this but no actual confirmation and was hoping Mayor Roterling or someone in her office could verify that this is a fact.

I look forward to hearing from you and I'm very sorry to be reaching out under these horrible circumstances.

Best,

Maria

Governor Pritzker's Statement on Shooting in Highland Park

Today, I ask all Illinoisans to pray for the families who have been devastated by the evil unleashed this morning in Highland Park, for those who have lost loved ones and for those who have been injured. I also ask that we all pray for our first responders at all levels of government who are actively working to bring the suspect into custody, and whose bravery undoubtedly saved innocent lives on the scene.

There are no words for the kind of monster who lies in wait and fires into a crowd of families with children celebrating a holiday with their community. There are no words for the kind of evil that robs our neighbors of their hopes, their dreams, their futures. There are no words I can offer to lift the pain of those they leave behind. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I grieve with you.

But grief will not bring the victims back, and prayers alone will not put a stop to the terror of rampant gun violence in our country.

I will stand firm with Illinoisans and Americans: we must - and we will - end this plague of gun violence

Subject: Today Show Interview

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Honorable Nancy R. Roterling, Mayor,

I am stunned, and so saddened to hear about the horrible shooting in your town. I have friends who've lived in and near Highland Park. I just wanted to say that your interview on the Today Show was stellar, possibly the best interview I've ever seen from a mayor after a tragedy in their town. I sincerely hope that you run for higher office. a MUCH higher office!

This country is no longer a safe place to live. I moved to Florida in the 1980's, and there was a shooting at a high school cafeteria shortly after I arrived here. I met one of the teachers who was shot. Around the same time, a man shot up the Fireman's Fund Insurance office where my roommate's mother worked. This was before cell phones, so I had to call my friend at work and tell her to check on her mother, who knew and worked with the shooter. And in that same decade, a man walked into a supermarket, poured gasoline along the checkstands and set the cashiers on fire. Here we are, over 40 years later and the violence just gets worse every week. You can't send someone into the grocery store without wondering if they'll make it back out alive. I left my home of over 25 years because my next door neighbor was paranoid schizophrenic, and threatened me for years. The police said that he would have to hurt me twice before I could file a restraining order. So, I finally moved out of one of the nicest beach neighborhoods in the county.

Your responses this morning were so brilliant, and so powerful that I look forward to seeing much more of you on the news and I hope that you will become a well known voice against the gun culture insanity that is destroying this once great country.

I'm sending lots of prayers for peace and healing to you and the good people of Highland Park.

Best regards,

Guy Balson

Lt. Governor Stratton's Statement on the Shooting in Highland Park

Chicago—The pain that we are feeling today is not normal and never should be. My family and I are praying for the Highland Park community and all who attended the 4th of July parade today to celebrate our country only to have that celebration turned into tragedy. Our state is saddened and stunned by this horrific act of gun violence. We must lean on each other for comfort, and pray for the lives lost, those injured, their family and friends, as well as the brave first responders from every government agency working this mass shooting. As we struggle to process all that is happening today, we must again say ENOUGH. There are too many guns on our streets and we must enact common sense gun laws, stricter policies, and put resources in place to build the safe, healthy communities everyone deserves. Today we mourn with the people of Highland Park, and we make it clear that we see them and all who are impacted by gun violence in our state by remaining committed to healing from such immense pain.

Team Highland Park,

We are saddened to hear of the tragic mass shooting that occurred in Highland Park. Having worked in public safety for 33+ years and experiencing a mass shooting, I understand how closely agencies can work together and the affects this has in your agency and community. We want to share our sincerest condolences to the families of the victims. Please extend our sympathies on behalf of the entire Cordico Team.

I have attached some resources and a very short video (below) that may be of help for your officers, your staff and your social worker. Please feel free to share. If we can be of further assistance, do not hesitate to reach out to me.

CRITICAL INCIDENT SELF-CARE

Best practices for protecting your mind and body following a serious incident

First responders experience traumatic incidents at a rate much higher than the general public. A vehicle crash with an entrapped child, a mother engulfed in a house fire, witnessing a fellow first responder physically harmed in the line of duty. These incidents and countless others expose law enforcement officers, firefighters, EMS professionals and dispatchers to chronic stress.

Knowing how to care for yourself when you experience a traumatic or critical incident is essential to processing the incident, allowing you to move on and return to work in a healthy state. Left unprocessed, such incidents can lead to post-traumatic stress, depression and hypervigilance—all of which will make you less effective at your job.

Taking steps to protect yourself immediately following a critical incident can reduce the trauma, promote healthy coping strategies and help you address any lingering issues before they become destructive.

Physical Care

- Avoid drugs and alcohol
- As much as possible, maintain a normal and active routine
- Exercise regularly
- Get plenty of sleep and rest
- Maintain a nourishing diet comprised of regularly scheduled, healthy meals

Outreach and Connection

- Reach out to trusted family, friends and co-workers who support you
- Be open to receiving support from those you trust
- Consider reaching out to others who may be having difficulties. Reassuring and helping others can be one of the most effective ways to recover as a team.
- Communicate your needs to others in a clear and unambiguous manner
- Be patient and compassionate with yourself and others who may also be experiencing stress

CRITICAL INCIDENT SELF-CARE

Processing and Decision-Making

- Consider writing down your thoughts and emotions to help organize your internal experience (remember to shred the writing if you wish to ensure your privacy)
- Avoid major life decisions you may later regret (e.g., deciding whether to get married or buy a new house)
- Focus on “inconsequential” decisions (e.g., selecting what to eat for lunch or what time to go for a run) to help reestablish a sense of control

Emotional Management

- Understand that having strong feelings (including anxiety, anger, worry and fear) following a traumatic event is normal, and the “normal” range of personal responses following a traumatic incident varies widely from person to person
- Give yourself permission to feel however it is that you feel, while not imposing upon yourself any sense of obligation to maintain or preserve negative emotions
- Understand that emotional states are temporary and most people “bounce back” following a traumatic event
- Keep in mind you are only human, we are all prone to error, and even people who are the best in the world at what they do routinely make mistakes

Red Flags

Above all, be aware of “red flags” that signal you need help. If you observe any of these red flags, please seek assistance from peer support, a trusted friend or religious advisor, a qualified therapist or a vetted help line.

- Depression, persistent sadness, feelings of hopelessness or helplessness, or frequent crying
- Insomnia or other sleep difficulties
- Thoughts of suicide, wanting to die or indifference to death
- Shutting down or feeling withdrawn
- Avoiding reminders of critical incidents
- Flashbacks, intrusive memories or nightmares
- Excessive or persistent hypervigilance
- Rage, increased anger or chronic irritability
- Confusion, inattention or memory problems
- Heightened anxiety, fearfulness or panic attacks
- Loneliness or feelings of being isolated or unsupported
- Increased use of alcohol or other substances

The days following a traumatic incident may be difficult, but with self-awareness and responsiveness you can draw on your natural ability to be resilient and return to work even stronger and better prepared for the next incident.

Processing and Decision-Making

- Consider writing down your thoughts and emotions to help organize your internal experience (remember to shred the writing if you wish to ensure your privacy)
- Avoid major life decisions you may later regret (e.g., deciding whether to get married or buy a new house)
- Focus on “inconsequential” decisions (e.g., selecting what to eat for lunch or what time to go for a run) to help reestablish a sense of control

Emotional Management

- Understand that having strong feelings (including anxiety, anger, worry and fear) following a traumatic event is normal, and the “normal” range of personal responses following a traumatic incident varies widely from person to person
- Give yourself permission to feel however it is that you feel, while not imposing upon yourself any sense of obligation to maintain or preserve negative emotions
- Understand that emotional states are temporary and most people “bounce back” following a traumatic event
- Keep in mind you are only human, we are all prone to error, and even people who are the best in the world at what they do routinely make mistakes

Red Flags

Above all, be aware of “red flags” that signal you need help. If you observe any of these red flags, please seek assistance from peer support, a trusted friend or religious advisor, a qualified therapist or a vetted help line.

- Depression, persistent sadness, feelings of hopelessness or helplessness, or frequent crying
- Insomnia or other sleep difficulties
- Thoughts of suicide, wanting to die or indifference to death
- Shutting down or feeling withdrawn
- Avoiding reminders of critical incidents
- Flashbacks, intrusive memories or nightmares
- Excessive or persistent hypervigilance
- Rage, increased anger or chronic irritability
- Confusion, inattention or memory problems
- Heightened anxiety, fearfulness or panic attacks
- Loneliness or feelings of being isolated or unsupported
- Increased use of alcohol or other substances

The days following a traumatic incident may be difficult, but with self-awareness and responsiveness you can draw on your natural ability to be resilient and return to work even stronger and better prepared for the next incident.

CRITICAL INCIDENT SELF-CARE

Best practices for protecting your mind and body following a serious incident

First responders experience traumatic incidents at a rate much higher than the general public. A vehicle crash with an entrapped child, a mother engulfed in a house fire, witnessing a fellow first responder physically harmed in the line of duty. These incidents and countless others expose law enforcement officers, firefighters, EMS professionals and dispatchers to chronic stress.

Knowing how to care for yourself when you experience a traumatic or critical incident is essential to processing the incident, allowing you to move on and return to work in a healthy state. Left unprocessed, such incidents can lead to post-traumatic stress, depression and hypervigilance—all of which will make you less effective at your job.

Taking steps to protect yourself immediately following a critical incident can reduce the trauma, promote healthy coping strategies and help you address any lingering issues before they become destructive.

Physical Care

- Avoid drugs and alcohol
- As much as possible, maintain a normal and active routine
- Exercise regularly
- Get plenty of sleep and rest
- Maintain a nourishing diet comprised of regularly scheduled, healthy meals

Outreach and Connection

- Reach out to trusted family, friends and co-workers who support you
- Be open to receiving support from those you trust
- Consider reaching out to others who may be having difficulties. Reassuring and helping others can be one of the most effective ways to recover as a team.
- Communicate your needs to others in a clear and unambiguous manner
- Be patient and compassionate with yourself and others who may also be experiencing stress

- Consider writing down your thoughts and emotions to help organize your internal experience (remember to shred the writing if you wish to ensure your privacy)

Dear Amanda

It's Ann from the BBC news show "Today" here, following up on our request for an interview this evening with Mayor Rotering.

We are really keen to see whether this could work for her - and I am wondering whether there is an out-of-hours number that I could reach you on for a quick chat?

I am on the UK number [REDACTED] I have an iPhone, and could talk on FaceTime audio or WhatsApp to save a long distance call (although I don't think many people in the US use that.)

In any case, it would be great to touch base with you.

Ps. I'm emailing from my private [REDACTED] address because my emails to Highland Park council addresses seem to be "undeliverable" when I send them from my BBC email address!

Lt. Governor Stratton's Statement on the Shooting in Highland Park

Chicago—The pain that we are feeling today is not normal and never should be. My family and I are praying for the Highland Park community and all who attended the 4th of July parade today to celebrate our country only to have that celebration turned into tragedy. Our state is saddened and stunned by this horrific act of gun violence. We must lean on each other for comfort, and pray for the lives lost, those injured, their family and friends, as well as the brave first responders from every government agency working this mass shooting. As we struggle to process all that is happening today, we must again say ENOUGH. There are too many guns on our streets and we must enact common sense gun laws, stricter policies, and put resources in place to build the safe, healthy communities everyone deserves. Today we mourn with the people of Highland Park, and we make it clear that we see them and all who are impacted by gun violence in our state by remaining committed to healing from such immense pain.

Gov. Pritzker Addresses This Morning's Mass Shooting in Highland Park

Monday, July 4th, 2022

Remarks As Prepared For Delivery

Video of the Governor's remarks will be available for download here.

Good afternoon. I want to begin by honoring the heroic actions of law enforcement who ran toward the gunshots they heard today. In particular, lives were saved because the Highland Park Police courageously protected and served their community.

I also want to thank our Illinois State Police who have been coordinating on the ground since this morning with Highland Park PD, neighboring police forces, the County Task force, FBI and ATF. Our troopers will continue the investigation and search until the job is done.

To the residents of Highland Park and surrounding communities: This murderer will be brought to justice. But until that happens, please follow instructions from local authorities on how best to keep you and your family safe. And please know that every resource at the state's disposal will be available to you in the days and weeks ahead as you recover from this horrific tragedy.

A little while ago, I spoke with President Biden who pledged all support the White House can provide. The President agrees with me: This madness must stop.

This morning a gunman opened fire on a July Fourth parade in Highland Park, taking 6 innocent lives, leaving 24 people in the hospital, traumatizing countless children and families, and shattering the peace of this community.

The families of 6 individuals woke up today to join a community celebration of our nation's independence. They will go to bed tonight less than whole.

There are no words for the kind of evil that shows up at a public celebration of freedom, hides on a roof and shoots innocent people with an assault rifle. There are no words I can offer to lessen the pain of those families who will no longer associate the 4th of July with celebration, but instead with grief. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I and our family grieve with you.

It is devastating that a celebration of America was ripped apart by our uniquely American plague. A day dedicated to freedom has put into stark relief the one freedom we as a nation refuse to uphold – the freedom of our fellow citizens to live without the daily fear of gun violence.

You know what I love about the 4th of July? We celebrate the founding of this wonderful nation by gathering with family and friends, and enjoying parades and fireworks. Our cameras on days like this are filled with messy faces and reckless smiles and pretty sunsets – an effort to bottle up that unique feeling of sun-filled joy.

That's what evil took from us today. That's what gun violence robs us of — no matter the neighborhood or city it erupts in.

If you are angry today, I'm here to tell you to be angry. I'm furious. I'm furious that yet more innocent lives were taken by gun violence. I'm furious that their loved ones are forever broken by what took place today. I'm furious that children and their families have been traumatized. I'm furious that this is happening in communities all across Illinois and America. I'm furious because it does not have to be this way and yet we as a nation, well, we continue to allow this to happen. While we celebrate the 4th of July just once a year, mass shootings have become our weekly – yes, weekly – American tradition.

There are going to be people who say that today is not the day, that now is not the time, to talk about guns. I'm telling you there is no better day and no better time than right here and right now.

It's the 4th of July - a day for reflection on our freedoms. Our founders carried muskets, not assault weapons. And I don't think a single one of them would have said you have a constitutional right to an assault weapon with a high capacity magazine — or that that is more important than the right of the people who attended this parade today to live.

So yes, I'm angry. We as a nation deserve better.

May the memory of those we lost today be a blessing – and a call to action.

Hi, Mayor Roterer,

My name is Israel, I am a reporter with The US Sun. You told WBEZ this morning that Highland Park suspect Robert Crimo III will be charged today.

Do you have an exact time of when those charges will be filed? Also, is he expected to be arraigned today?

Thanks,
I. S-Rodriguez

Gov. Pritzker Addresses This Morning's Mass Shooting in Highland Park

Monday, July 4th, 2022

Remarks As Prepared For Delivery

Video of the Governor's remarks will be available for download here.

Good afternoon. I want to begin by honoring the heroic actions of law enforcement who ran toward the gunshots they heard today. In particular, lives were saved because the Highland Park Police courageously protected and served their community.

I also want to thank our Illinois State Police who have been coordinating on the ground since this morning with Highland Park PD, neighboring police forces, the County Task force, FBI and ATF. Our troopers will continue the investigation and search until the job is done.

To the residents of Highland Park and surrounding communities: This murderer will be brought to justice. But until that happens, please follow instructions from local authorities on how best to keep you and your family safe. And please know that every resource at the state's disposal will be available to you in the days and weeks ahead as you recover from this horrific tragedy.

A little while ago, I spoke with President Biden who pledged all support the White House can provide. The President agrees with me: This madness must stop.

This morning a gunman opened fire on a July Fourth parade in Highland Park, taking 6 innocent lives, leaving 24 people in the hospital, traumatizing countless children and families, and shattering the peace of this community.

The families of 6 individuals woke up today to join a community celebration of our nation's independence. They will go to bed tonight less than whole.

There are no words for the kind of evil that shows up at a public celebration of freedom, hides on a roof and shoots innocent people with an assault rifle. There are no words I can offer to lessen the pain of those families who will no longer associate the 4th of July with celebration, but instead with grief. Please know that our state grieves with you, that MK and I and our family grieve with you.

It is devastating that a celebration of America was ripped apart by our uniquely American plague. A day dedicated to freedom has put into stark relief the one freedom we as a nation refuse to uphold – the freedom of our fellow citizens to live without the daily fear of gun violence.

You know what I love about the 4th of July? We celebrate the founding of this wonderful nation by gathering with family and friends, and enjoying parades and fireworks. Our cameras on days like this are filled with messy faces and reckless smiles and pretty sunsets – an effort to bottle up that unique feeling of sun-filled joy.

That's what evil took from us today. That's what gun violence robs us of — no matter the neighborhood or city it erupts in.

If you are angry today, I'm here to tell you to be angry. I'm furious. I'm furious that yet more innocent lives were taken by gun violence. I'm furious that their loved ones are forever broken by what took place today. I'm furious that children and their families have been traumatized. I'm furious that this is happening in communities all across Illinois and America. I'm furious because it does not have to be this way and yet we as a nation, well, we continue to allow this to happen. While we celebrate the 4th of July just once a year, mass shootings have become our weekly – yes, weekly – American tradition.

There are going to be people who say that today is not the day, that now is not the time, to talk about guns. I'm telling you there is no better day and no better time than right here and right now.

It's the 4th of July - a day for reflection on our freedoms. Our founders carried muskets, not assault weapons. And I don't think a single one of them would have said you have a constitutional right to an assault weapon with a high capacity magazine — or that that is more important than the right of the people who attended this parade today to live.

So yes, I'm angry. We as a nation deserve better.

May the memory of those we lost today be a blessing – and a call to action.

I am wondering if during this hearing he will know my name and address. He and I had words with each other last fall when I first told him to get his dog on a leash and started addressing this issue. Last fall, his dog was running full speed down the sidewalk right at me; I did not even see the man until a few seconds later because he was about 100 feet behind his dog on a one-wheeled scooter. I would like to be known that I am concerned of any possible retaliation from this man toward me, my wife and/or our dogs if he knows my name and/or where we live. I do not want any confrontation with him and will stay away from him. I just want him to keep his Pitbull on a leash and to also have him hold onto the leash firmly; just like everyone else does in our neighborhood. There are plenty of dogs and dog owners in our area who abide by the law and keep hold of their dog(s) on a leash and he should too.
